CONNECTIONS

everyone has a story to tell

christopher briscoe

CONNECTIONS is about love, collaboration, and giving purpose to our lives. Our DNA has wired us to seek relationships; deny anyone contact and it's the surest way to destroy them. Briscoe's connection with others often occurs when he takes their portraits. He photographs people to celebrate them as pieces of art. His camera gives him access to a unique intimacy. When Briscoe captures a special moment, emotion is the payoff for the viewer. Emotion is his reward as well. The portraits contained in Connections are triumphant in their intimacy and art.

With uncommon energy, a clear love for his subjects, and exceptional vision, Christopher Briscoe has created a compelling book.

— David Lorenz Winston, fine art photographer

A true artist! — Kirk Douglas, actor/writer

This is poetry of the human spirit. — Olivia Lorge

CHRISTOPHER BRISCOE brings his talents as author and photojournalist to the forefront in this remarkable book. There is an intimacy that takes us inside the hearts of those he meets. His photographs have been published around the world and have been featured on Entertainment Tonight, Larry King Live, and Oprah. Chris's work uncovers the common thread that binds us all—from a visit to Death Row, to Bourbon Street, and through the alleyways of Bangkok. His photos dig deep to unearth the vital story behind each face and landscape. He has photographed cultural icons from President Mikhail Gorbachev to producer-director Steven Spielberg, actors Kirk and Michael Douglas, actress Catherine Zeta Jones and many others. Christopher lives in Ashland, Oregon.
